New Hospital One of Finest in Equipment

A new era in the hospital life of Wetaskiwin was ushered in on June 1st when the Prince of Wales building was taken over for hospital purposes. For a long time it has been found that the old hospital was entirely inadequate to supply the needs of the city and district, and this spring negotiations were opened up with the owners of the Prince of Wales building with the result that the city has secured the building for three years at a rental of $100.00 a month with the option to purchase the property at the end of the three year period if the citizens so wish, for the sum of $20,000.00. The building is admirably adapted for hospital purposes, being light, airy and well heated and ventilated, and the sun is able to shine in all patients is the special feature of the hospital.

The basement is the full size of the building and consists of boiler room, coal bins large enough to hold a year's supply of coal, janitor's apartments, laundry and several storage rooms. On the ground floor are the offices, waiting room, kitchen, nurses' dining room and the sun parlor to assist in the city offices and council chamber are also located on this floor with entrance on Lansdowne street. These are cut off and entirely separate from the rest of the building and when fitted up will be a credit to the city.

The second floor is devoted entirely to hospital purposes and can conveniently accommodate eight hundred patients. There are six private wards, men's public ward of four beds, and a double ward of four beds, especially suitable for maternity cases. The operating room, X-ray room, diet kitchen, linen closets, medicine room, etc., and the sun parlor are also on this floor, and a dumb waiter connects the kitchen on the ground floor with the diet kitchen.

On the third floor are located the nurses' sleeping apartments, and in addition when required will accommodate eighteen patients as well. It is the intention to add a fourth floor, the second floor for patients, but the third floor can be utilized whenever the demand arises.

An appeal was made to the several organizations in the city to assist in furnishing the different wards, and the response has been most gratifying, the Masonic lodge, Eastern Star, Women's Institute, Orange Lodge, Scandinavian Home, and the Young People's Association and Rebecca's Club furnishing private wards and the Men's Public ward has been nicely furnished as a Memorial ward. The medical men and dentists have fitted up the operating room and installed a powerful X-ray apparatus. Mr. Curt Smith, of the Dr. H. H. Smith has fitted up the diet kitchen with a complete range of electrical appliances. The U.F.A. and U.P.W.A. have been appealed to to furnish the maternity ward and several firms have pledged their intention of contributing to the furnishings and equipment. The committee in charge of the Scandinavian Hospital sinking fund account will equip the laundry with the most complete and modern electrical apparatus, and in a very short time they will have one of the finest equipped hospitals for all size in the province.

MEMBER FOR STRATHCONA DISCUSSES OLEOMARGARINE IN COMMONS

D. W. Warner, M.P., for Strathcona took part in the discussion of the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in Canada, in the house of commons. The report of his address, as it appears in Hansard, is as follows: Mr. Warner: I realize that this is not a proper time to bring this question to the attention of the house, but I am debating something which I think is worth our while staying all night in order to decide rightly. The house seems to be very much divided; the different groups are broken. We are going to vote very much as we please in this matter, judging by the way hon. members are talking all over the country, some for and some against in every group. Consequently I feel quite at home in taking my stand in opposition to my learned (Mr. Crear) in this group. I feel I am justified in doing so. If he had put it as many years ago, I would say to my hon. friend that the conditions now are absolutely different. Furthermore, oleomargarine was asked for only as a substitute during the war, and the fact that the price of butter has come down no doubt largely responsible for the diminution in the sales of oleo.

Mr. Stansell: May I ask the hon. member a question? Mr. Warner: I might ask the hon. gentleman a question. Mr. Deputy Speaker: I would ask hon. members not to interrupt until the member for East Calgary (Mr. Irvine). Mr. Irvine: Does not the farmer's platform include the free importation of oleomargarine? Mr. Warner: I understand very well what there is in that platform, and I do not think that it has any application at all to this case. I am not sure of the value of oleomargarine in this country. I quite realize the difficulty with, and if you prohibit the importation and sale of this article you will cause the dairy industry, and probably have cheaper and better butter. But if you encourage the use of any substitute you lessen the demand for the latter to that extent. However, if people are going to manufacture a platform to the detriment of an industry, then I think that platform should be changed.

Mr. Stansell: Does my hon. friend for East Calgary (Mr. Irvine) state that the Progressive party has a platform to the detriment of an industry, then I think that platform should be changed.

WOMEN MEMBER MAKES PLEA FOR DIRECT TAXATION

Ottawa, June 4.—The government that supports it is going to take its life in its hands, but the government not willing to take its life in its hands is possibly not the best kind of government.

So, Miss Agnes McPhail, Canada's woman member, pleads for direct taxation, in the house of commons on Thursday evening. Miss McPhail's speech, which created considerable interest, was brief. She referred to the budget as one step forward, but one step backward. She attacked protection, with which the Liberal party was "ridicled," regretted that Canada had come very near to "dollar competition" with the United States, and urged a more liberal trade policy.

In keeping with the decline of interest rates on the money market it is announced that the interest rate on savings certificates will be 4 1/2 per cent instead of 5 per cent from July 1st.

Special permits to teachers will be issued to permit teachers now at work in the province. These permits will not be renewed unless necessary to keep the schools going. Indications are that the surplus of teachers in the province is rapidly being absorbed.

Dr. W. C. Ludlow, provincial deputy minister of health, is attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Public Health congress at St. John, N.B. Health experts from all over Canada are in attendance.

The six new public health nurses, which it was announced some time ago were being added to the staff of the department of public health, are now being sent out to their various districts, after having undergone a special course of training.

Two new land companies have been incorporated under provincial law during the past week or two, these being The Southern Irrigation Farm Lands Ltd., of Calgary, and the Chazy Farming Co. The Ponoka Creamery has also been incorporated with a capital of $50,000.

A new government debenture issue will be put on the market early in July. It will be for $2,500,000, thirty year, at 5 per cent. Of the total amount $1,500,000 will be for the refunding of a 1912 ten year issue, and the balance will be used for the general account purposes of the government, including the public works program for the summer.

Stephen, recently appointed commissioner for the province, will have charge of the new work.

Domestic Animals Bylaw
Representatives of nine municipalities, conferring in Vermilion last Saturday to reach an agreement on a uniform bylaw covering the prohibition of animals running at large and grazing, were unanimous in recommending the limit at 100 head.

Prohibition of sheep, geese and goats, the year round, over the municipality.

Prohibition of cattle from December 1st to March 1st in the following year, over all municipalities.

That 75 head including all animals, be the limit any resident farmer be permitted to have at large at any time within the municipality during the open period, this to be the ratio per quarter section, the act at present putting the limit at 100 head.

That there be an arrangement between municipalities whereby cattle from one municipality be permitted to graze on lands adjoining municipality subject to permit to be issued by the adjoining municipality, and such permit to be subject to the prohibitive periods.

The conference was attended on behalf of the government by Hon. English and S. Williamson, officials of the department of municipal affairs. E. J. Rasmussen, member for Alexander riding, was also present.

High Price for Bonds
United Irrigation district bonds to the extent of $450,000 were sold under the auspices of the provincial treasury department on Thursday to Carstens & Earles, Seattle, at the very high price of $102.27, which will bring about $120,000 premium on the bonds. This is one of the most satisfactory bond sales yet made. The issue is to cover construction of the United Irrigation project near Carleton.

DUNLOP CORD TIRES FABRIC

Making "Mile-ionaires"

THESE are great days for the motor car user—in a tire sense. Your dollar never before bought as much. Your speedometer never before registered as much. Your repair kit never was as idle. All because Dunlop Cord Tires came and ushered in a new era. Five years ago you paid half as much again for the same size tire; ten years ago you paid twice as much. Prices have been tumbling. Quality has been mounting. One time we thought 3,500 was mileage to boast of; to-day we may run into half a dozen "25,000 milers" in a forenoon. "Dunlop did it," says one enthusiast. "The 'Two Hands' are making us Mile-ionaires," says another; and so on.

The sign "Mileage Wanted" is now changed to "Mileage Supplied."

SHURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1922

It's Different Now.

Years ago when the early settlers came to western Canada, neither sea to place a lighted lamp in the window
every night when the family retired, as a guide to any stranger who might be lost on the trackless prairie. The doors were never locked. The guards were always poked around the house and barn. No one thought of being pocket full of matches as it was sometimes necessary to set fire to the prairie grass and get into the burned area to keep from being caught by the big fire which swept over the country at times. Even the cowboy when miles from any protection, and forced to face the onrushing flames, learned to roll himself up in his old blanket, lie down upon the ground and let the fire sweep over him, when he would rise, throw off the burning blanket, and be safe. No one at that time had read much about fire protection. No fire inspector had ever called to tell them what they would have to do. No rules had been scattered broadcast. No fire extinguisher hung upon the walls of buildings and the law did not require an ornamental fire escape on the old school house
at night, mother, and the entire family were better posted and gave more thought to fire guards and self protection than they do now. Grandsons of the old pioneers are now members of the school board in the little town built up near the old homestead and are sending their children to school in a brick building with wooden stairways and no fire escapes. They are also running stores on Main street,
with a lot of boxes, excelsior and old chairs piled up against the buildings at the back end. No oil lamps light up a window in their home at night,
but the doors are securely fastened,
but an electric light drop cord hangs over a nail or hook in numerous places waiting for a few more threads to show up, making a metal contact, when another fire will be reported and the cause given as "unknown".

WHEN THE EDITOR THINKS

The editor sits in his hard old chair
And thinks with his thought machine
"There's my pen to polish, my axe to grind—
"My old typewriter to clean.
"I must cook that squash that my neighbor digs
Brought in from the garden patch;
I must roast that fellow who still forgets
His new coat on a check to scratch,
I must write a letter to Rev. Dox,
And tell him his sermons cold,
Will be brought to life with my printer's ink.
For fifty dollars in gold,
I must tell Tom Trott I will trade a year,
Of my paper for winter coal.
I must print as live news the whole of the city.
Of a freshwater Baptist soul.
Oh, life is sweet for the news-print man
As he pounds at his old machine,
Though money is dirty and times are hard
He keeps right tolerably clean.

HE WON

A young but exceptionally brilliant professor in a western college was dismissed from the faculty because of his shirking duties. The president, interested in his career, secured him a position in an eastern college. To the president there he wrote: "The young man has a promising future,
and anything you can do to cure him
of betting will be a benefit to society."
The professor went east, and was cordially received. Conversation had proceeded but a few minutes when he said to the president, "I'll bet you seventy-five dollars you have a wart between your shoulder blades."
The president hesitated. "Young man,"
he said, "I never bet, but just to teach you a lesson I will take you up."
He thereupon proved to the young man his satisfaction that he was in error, and the professor paid the seventy-five.
The president went west relating the incident, concluding—"I hope I have cured him."
The other wrote back "I fear the case is hopeless. The very day he left here he bet me one hundred dollars that he could make you take your shirt off."

"Mamma," said a little five-year-old.
"Will you tell me how to spell tunkin?"
"Tunkin, dear? I don't know of any such word. Why do you ask?"
"Cause I want to write, 'I love my teacher more than tunkin tell'."

THE FARMER

The farmer is a man of wit.
There's simply no denying it.
He lives a life of pumped ease,
And is as happy as you please.
At nine o'clock he's ready for
His morning rolls and cafe noir.
And when the gormet thus is fed,
His vallet helps him to bed.
From ten to one he reads the news.
The market tips and trade reviews.
To corn and wheat his head he gives.
For 'tis by these the farmer lives.
So, having figured for the day,
Which way the market he will play.
His batch of daily bread is made
By dealings on the board of trade.
His daily labors being through,
The farmer takes his lunch at two.
Then, donning riding garb, he calls
His favorite motor from the stall.
He rides about to feel the churn
He rides about to view his farm
And feels the rural country's charm
His wit with pains and aching hand
And all the tribulations of his land.
Her easel sets beneath a tree,
And paints the view from two to three
At six o'clock they dine in state.
The farming life is simply great.
The products of the earth and air,
Are on the table groaning there,
Sweet milk is always at their hand,
Dough by the case, all neatly canned.
The trolley line that rattles down
It brings them better from the town
And eggs and luscious chicken fries,
The best of the city's market prices.
Green truck and fruit, crisp and nice,
Just taken from cold storage ice.
And juicy, luscious ham, oh, my,
The best the puckers can supply.
No wonder life upon the farm,
Has always held so rare a charm.
The cry of "Halo" which town folks
shout,
Is only every inside out.
—Kansas City Star.

It is not just safe to say that two crooners will be erected in Ponoka.
All kinds of rumors are afloat and meetings are being held, but this much, the Calgary Central Crooners have purchased two lots on Smith Ave. from J. J. Fawcett, while it is said that the Edmonton City Dairy secured the A. Lax lots, between Cummings' store and the Empress theatre, on Railway street. Something definite should be known in a day or two.

The bylaw voted on Monday to authorize the issue of debentures to the extent of $5,000 was carried by a vote of 45 to 2. As the vote indicated there was not much interest manifest compared with the original election light system which was carried by 89 to 21. The two bylaws together authorize an expenditure of $25,000
for the town electric light plant—

THEY FINALLY WENT CRAZY ABOUT THEIR EDITOR

Here's a story published in an exchange which shows how greatly the people of a community in Kansas appreciated their editor: "In appreciation of the work of a Kansas editor
for their community a bunch of citizens recently presented him with a bouquet. On the same occasion a quartet from a local church sang a few sweet songs and a minister made a little talk. After the minister's talk six lanky men carried the popular editor from the house and placed him in a model 1922 plumed sedan, and the whole town formed in parade behind the editor's expensive car. After the parade the appreciative crowd returned to their homes serene in the thought of having provided one bright day in the life of their local news purveyor, even if they did wait until he was dead to do it."

Approximately $7,000,000 was vacated at the Winnipeg race track during the first five days of the present meeting and when the returns are complete for the seven days it is thought that the amount will not be much less than $10,000,000.

head, part to the Kirkbride ranch,
south of Raymond, and the remainder to the United States and to Old Mex-

landed interests.

Mr. Farmer

Seeding is about through and breaking season is here. Have you bought that Brush Breaker that you will need? If not come down and look at my Verity 22, 16, or 14 inch plow—they have a little the best turning board that you can buy any place and the beams are well ironed and strong enough to stand the pull. If its a Tractor Plow you want I can sell you a complete steel plow in any style that you might want, in either power or hand lift. I have several second hand breakers for sale too, and think I can supply you in anything that will suit.

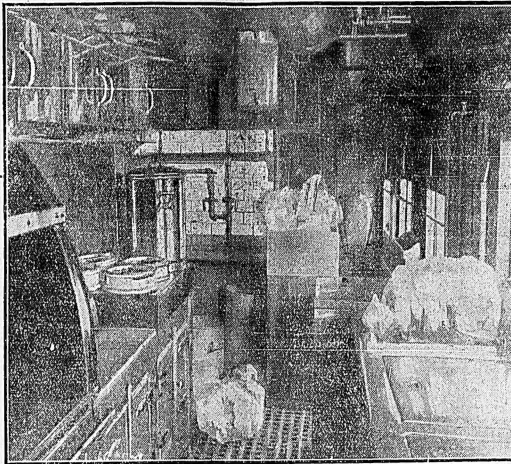

Don't forget that I always have repairs for the Massey Harris on hand.

As far as Tractors go I have a size for every farm either in a 10-18, a 12-20, a 15-27, or a 22-40, and don't forget that the J. I. Case Co. are behind each of these Tractors so come in and talk this over with me and I am sure that I can show you where our Tractor has it over some of the so-called just as good, and cheaper in cash only machines that are trying to flood the market today.

A Miniature Hotel Kitchen

The above interior view is one of the new steel dining cars which are the last word in up-to-date railway construction.

There is not in all Canada a housewife who would fail to be interested in the kitchen of one of the new up-to-the-minute steel dining cars that are every day moving to and fro across this country. The kitchenette of the modern flat is often ingeniously planned, but ingenuity could meet with no more trying task than the putting of a complete hotel kitchen into the space afforded by a comparatively small compartment in a railroad car. The traveller to-day expects to find on the railroad car almost anything in the way of food that his fancy may dictate, and he expects it served in as perfect a manner as in a first-class hotel. That is why the hotel kitchen must be condensed into the dining car. A glance into this kitchen will at once show how ingeniously this has been done, and with what regard for one hundred per cent efficiency and the most perfect cleanliness. Ranges, refrigerators, and cooking utensils reflect the lights in their polished nickel surfaces, and ready to hand, in its well appointed place, is everything in the way of an aid to cooking that the experienced chef may require.

What these miniature hotel kitchens can do may be gathered from the fact that in the course of a journey from Montreal to Vancouver 11 meals are served on route, and these to an average of 100 persons per meal. There are long stretches during this run when it is impossible to obtain supplies, so the superintendent must see to it that the ice-boxes and larders of each diner are stocked to satisfy the capricious appetites of the travellers it serves.

The importance of this branch of a big railroad may be gathered from the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway has in daily use 150 dining, cafe and buffet cars, a larger number than operated by any other railroad in the world. The department also looks after the lunch counters, and dining rooms scattered over its 19,000 miles of rail and to serve the three and a half million meals that are yearly partaken of by travellers on this road, requires the effort of 1,000 stewards, cooks, waiters and other operatives. To serve this large number of meals requires the yearly consumption of the following quantities of supplies:

Fish	255,000 lbs.

FLAPPERS

My aunt was once a flapper, and flapped rebellious wings; but now she is a scrapper for old, time-honored things. I've heard some ghastly rumors that when she was eighteen she were a pair of bloomers upon the village green. And there was pleasant priestly, and every righteous dance denounced her course as beastly, and said it was a shame. The moral week: I paper gave auntie have a page, and said her shameful caprice discredited the age. Revolt was auntie's passion, when she was young and fair, she rode a horse man's fashion, and bobbed her aroil hair. The flappers now around us imagine they're unique, determined to confound us by some unseemly freak. But it's old stuff, my masters; the damsels of the past were wont to shock their pastors, and make them stand aghast. We see the palleis moulting as hens have always done, and damsels were revolting away back in '51. My aunt was busy flapping in bygone sunny springs, and now we hear her yapping for old and changeless things. And maidens now rebelling against the whiffling whence when older will be yelling that young girls have no sense.—Walt Mason.

WELL PAID

The foreman was badly in need of some extra workers, and not getting many applicants, he stopped a husky darkey on the street and asked him if he wanted a job.

"What is you all a-saying, boss?"
"Oh, I'll pay you all you are worth."
"No, Sah, indeed! No! I's a-gottin' noh dan dat now."

NOT ONE WOMAN IN TWENTY HAS A STRONG BACK

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well. The trouble is that the kidneys are to blame, many times out of ten, for that weak, lame and aching back, from which they suffer so much.

When you find your kidneys out of order, your back aches and pains, and gives you endless misery, all you need to do is take a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and you will find that the aches and pains will vanish, and you will be happy and able to go to the office.

Mrs. John Melvin, Newcastle, Brist. N.B., writes: "Last spring I was bothered with my kidneys and did not know what I could do to get relief. A friend called, and told me of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had done for her, and advised her to take them. I had no trace of it since."

MEMBER OF STRATHCONA DISCUSSES OLEOMARGARINE

In a moderate way; they are living, but they are not making money, and the dairy business is about the only thing that has kept them going. I know that to be so. Now, if you are going to do anything to make it harder for those people you will get a pretty good immigration policy to get newcomers to take the place of those people who may be forced to abandon their homesteads. We are talking of spending money to induce immigrants to come to this country, say, gentlemen, you will do more good by making the people prosperous that are here now, and you can do this better by giving them a good chance to make a success of the dairy business, than by spending money to get immigrants to come in and take their place.

My hon. friend from Marquette—my leader—mentioned that he wanted cold storage and lots of other things to take care of the dairy industry. We want them too, we are not objecting to them—neither are we objecting to the wheel round to take care of the wheat crop. Our leader suggested that in Denmark the dairy farmers are very prosperous. I have spent a good deal of time in institutions, and I have been practically all my life trying to induce people to go into mixed farming, which includes of course a little dairying. In the course of my studies there I have learned that Denmark would not have prospered with the dairy business, if it had not been for the skim milk her farmers fed to the bacon hogs for the production of the fancy bacon exported to Great Britain, where it fetches fancy prices. The Danish farmers are very favorably situated in regard to Great Britain and have the advantage of opportunities to put their products on the British market. I do not object if the people of Denmark want to eat oleomargarine and sell their butter to Great Britain at a higher price than they pay for the substitute. But we cannot do quite the same thing.

We have pamphlets here as part of the propaganda to further the interests of the oleomargarine manufacturers, and have been working to support the continued importation and manufacture of their product. What is paying for that propaganda? The manufacturing interests, of course. And they do not expect to lose their production of oleomargarine at its present level, they are going to encroach on our dairy business more and more. The more oleomargarine that is put on the market the more water it displaces, and the more profit will go into the hands of the big companies that already have a monopoly in this country, while the man who is out on the farm having a hard time to keep his household well will have to get along with that narrowed market and to that extent he and his family will be so much worse off.

I am not going to quote facts and figures. It is too late to do so tonight, and I have too had a cold to talk at any great length; indeed, I would have intervened in this discussion at all but for my keen interest in the matter. We are on two ways about it. As the Minister of Agriculture said and as others have said, you cannot hire a man to milk cows on a farm if you want him to milk cows. And I want to tell you that I do not believe the milking machine is a success yet; it takes a pretty good man to run one of those machines successfully. What would you do in the country if something else were manufactured in the place of milk? All day long we have been talking about how good oleomargarine is for adults to eat, but I have not heard one single member say that it was good for children—ad that we wear our children, the poor man, as well as the rich man, to have good, nourishing food, and for growing children there is not the slightest doubt in the world that oleomargarine is no substitute for butter.

I suggest to my hon. friends on my right that if they will take the same amount of butter and spread it on a little thinner they will get more benefit than they can ever expect to get from spreading this grease on their bread.

I know what oleomargarine is like; I had two kinds for dinner. I tasted and tasted them pretty well. I do not like oleomargarine. If other people like it they are welcome to it; I do not object to their using it because I do not like it. But I do object to its continued importation and manufacture if it makes the dairy business harder for our farmers to continue at.

We have spent millions of dollars at one time and another to try to get people to engage in the dairy business. My friend to the right read about twenty resolutions from twenty different organizations making certain requests. Who knows what is needed in this country in regard to the dairy business better than the men who are engaged in the business?

I am not so delicate about saying whether this is or is not protection. If you have got to protect your mind a little to keep your business going, why have you got to do it, that is all. I cannot see that the granting of what this resolution asks for gives protection to the dairy business any more than a compulsory wheat board would give protection to the men who are raising wheat.

Mr. Warner: Now, I will have the house understanding that I am not opposing the wheat board. I shall continue to fight for that wheat board and do my utmost to help get it.

what we want. But I do want a chance for the dairy business; I want it to be treated in the same way, on the same plane. I do not agree with my hon. friend from Lager (Mr. Brown), any more than I agree with my leader, that this is protection. We are not asking for protection, we are asking for a chance to live, and we know how hard it is to keep the dairy business alive. We understand it. Who knows better than those who are in it how hard it is to continue in the dairy business? I know I had to sell my dairy herd in 1918 because I could not get anybody to help me carry on the dairy business. And it was a dairy herd that I thought a lot of. In the course of my life I had built up two herds, and this one I had worked with since I came to this country. But if the manufacture and importation of oleomargarine is to be allowed to continue, I do not think I will be the only man who will have to go out of the dairy business. It is only the man who has a growing family that can engage in the dairy business, because otherwise he would have to hire men to help him, and he could not afford to pay the wages demanded under present conditions.

Now, Mr. Speaker, and hon. gentlemen, this is the reason why I am speaking in support of this resolution—simply because I cannot draw the fine distinction that is asking for protection, as stated by our friends to the left. I do not see that we will weaken ourselves in the least by asking for protection of this kind. It is not protection in the way that we understand protection, that is, as a tax on the articles that we have to use. Those people have been paying taxes on the articles they have had to buy until they have barely enough to live on, and now if you put a little more burden on them they will lose more of these men for the very first year than you will gain by immigration over a long period.

The returned men have been encouraged to go on the farms and they are now struggling to keep their farms, and they are absolutely intolerant. Many of them are living on their cows, simply hanging on, hoping that parliament will do something to give them a fair chance. They are looking for a solution of their property so that they may go ahead and make the rest of the payments on it. I have had letters from the dairymen in my constituency, men who have not more than from 30 to 50 acres, who support the farmers in their demand for a wheat board. They have asked me to support that; I have done so, and I do not wish to misrepresent them in this matter. B'S'NESS with U and I left out

Doesn't look Natural, does it? This only goes to prove the old saying:

IT TAKES TWO TO MAKE A BARGAIN

That's why they put the U and I in Business
To round out the word and make its meaning complete representing both buyer and Seller

No business can succeed, ours included, without U. Knowing that, we always consider U first. We spell business with a capital "U" and a little "I", like this: BUSINESS, and we want U to know it.

In other words, your interests are considered first. Our aim is to please U in every possible way, shape and manner, in service, quality and price.

We need U
and by the same token U need Us.

And this is why we offer U Special Prices, so that U and I can do business

This week we offer U the following Bargains. These prices are for Cash Only and hold good until June 15th.
